Asteral installs latest prone table at the Whittington

Asteral, the medical equipment solutions company, has installed a MultiCare™ Platinum prone breast biopsy table at the Whittington Hospital NHS Trust.

The prone table, which is designed to maximise patient comfort while bringing the latest advances in stereotactic technology, was chosen by Trust staff with Asteral as part of its Managed Equipment Services arrangement. Its intuitive design and diagnostic capabilities make it the ideal system for characterization of calcifications, masses and architectural distortion.

Commenting on the installation Consultant Radiologist, Dr Ros Crooks, said “Because Asteral are vendor independent, we were able to work closely with them to select the table from a choice of providers and are delighted with the results.”
